

Kansas Rural Communities Foundation | Wamego Community Foundation

ANNUAL REPORT 2010

Create a Legacy:
Invest in
Your Hometown

Dear Friends:

Welcome to the Kansas Rural Communities Foundation and the Wamego Community Foundation! If you are already familiar with us, this report should make you feel proud. If you are just getting to know us, we think you may be surprised.

The KRCF and WCF are both different kinds of charitable foundations. We are a statewide movement of people who have given back to their communities to do good—not just to feel good.

We are proud—but not surprised—that our foundations continue to grow year after year, in good economic times and bad. Each year, more and more new donors make gifts while more and more of our repeat donors go one step further and include their hometown as a beneficiary of their estate.

This is a remarkable testament of faith in the future of rural Kansas. People are witnessing positive change; today, our young people no longer need to leave their hometown for good to find a better life. Many of these young people who would prefer to build their future closer to home now have the tools to do so.

The KRCF and WCF brand of rural development philanthropy is fueling local economies, engaging leaders, and inspiring generous Kansans to reinvest in their communities.

Together we are building vibrant communities of hope and opportunity.

Sincerely,

Doug Springer
